TRIBUTE IN SENATE TO VERA CRUZ DEAD

Senator J. Hamilton Lewis Voices Gratitude of Nation for Their Sacrifice.

DENIES THE REPUBLIC BELITTLES ITS HEROES

Bringing Home of Bodies on Battleship Termed Object Lesson for the World.

Fribute to the American marines and scamen who lost their lives during the ighting at Vera Cruz and whose bodies are being brought to this country in an merican warship, was made in Senate this afternoon by Senator Lewis of Illinois. Senator Lewis said: Mr. President, the news of the hour ings us the intelligence that a United States warship is solemnly bearing to our shores the nation's dead, who died at the command of duty in Mexico.

"Mr. President, these men were of the many who, from humble places in life's assignment, stepped forth to dedicate their lives to their country's need. No sordid pursuit of money for riches' sake blighted their usefulness. No seifish purpose to prosper upon the sacrifice of pose to prosper upon the sacrifice of others possessed their dreams. No undertaking promising ease, exempt from hurdens was their aspiration. No, These heard their country's trump calling for valiant sons to protect and defend their common mother. From the farm they leaped to obedience. From the workshop they came with hands outstretched for service. From humble and obscure homes each loyously went his way to dedicate service. From humble and obscure homes each joyously went his way to dedicate his young life to the destiny of America. With the father's blessing and a mother's parting kiss, with a 'God bless you, my boy, they came. No riches softened their lot. No birth gave them privilege. Their endowment was the consolation that their honest lives were worthy the love of those left behind them, and their inspiration the hope that their service might earn the approval of their countrymen.

Their Lives Consecrated.

'In loftiness of soul, but in humility of duty, they consecrated their lives to the honor of their flag and to the glory of their nation. At the command they stepped out and forward, and, with face to the foe, fell in death.

frie ever-present mysic square, persons fying the all:

"Daniel Haggerty, an Irishman, a descendant of those who marched with Patrick Cleburne from the south and Phil Sheridan from the north.

"John Schumacher, the German, the offspring of those who fought for us under Steuben.

"George Poinsett, of the race of those who marched with La Fayette, and then Samuel Meisenberg, the Jew, the child of a people without a country, but now a son claimed by a nation.

"As the stately ship bearing their silent forms turned toward the motherland she was saluted by the dipped colors of the greatest nations of the world. This was the homage which power and glory ever pays to the high purposes and sublime uses of brave lives. Nor monarchs, nor captain ever had nobler tribute in death than these humble and valiant edead. The salutations of the powerful of earth, sanctified by the requirem of the moaning waves and sweetened by the chant of the singing winds, consecrated the grandeur of their sublime homecoming.

Tribute of the Nation.

"Now, sir, they are to be met on their own native shores by the outpouring of the thousands who will greet them as is still high. the thousands who will greet them as those who gave honor to American seamen and victory to American arms.

"The President of the United States, the officers of the cablinet, members of Congress and the officials of honor in every avenue of distinction, will assemble to receive these returning children of their proud mother. They are taken to the heart of their countrymen in tears, to remain revered of their nation. Surely it is sweet and noble to die for one's on Washington tables, are self to the world's testimonial to those who by false accusation demean patriotic defense of the flag and condern as serville those who may false accusation demean patriotic defense of the flag and condern as serville those who engage for this exhibition of the world's testimonial to those beloved sons as an answer to those who by false accusation demean patriotic defense of the flag and condemn as servile those who engage for the protection of the republic. I present this majestic march of the nation's mourners against the false assertions that to enlist for the defense army of America is desroation and to fight for the country's honor is a service rewarded only with contempt.

To Refute a Calumny.

"I present this array of historic tribute to refute the calumny sent about by those who would desert their country in its peril and sacrifice it in its danger as they perpetuate the slander upon our patriotism that to die for America is but patriotism that to die for America is but to be ignored in rewards and buried in forgetfulness. Sir, as against the attempt to slav the patriotism of the young and opposed to the effort to cheat the nation of the protection by her manhood through maligning the spirit of American valor and falsifying the gratitude of the American people I present these proofs of the nation's sublime affection for her sons and I tender the presentation of these glorifying honors paid to their memory and renown.

"Mr. President, we summon the watching world to attest to mankind the attachment of America for her children and the tribute and triumph she pays to the hero who serves her cause.

"So today from this Senate we sand to the sad ones who await their beloved dead our sympathy and sorrow, as we certify to civilization that those who have fallen fulfilled the complete measure of man—they lived for duty save service.

fallen fuifilled the complete measure of man-they lived for duty, gave service to God and died for country. May their souls rest in heaven."

THE TOWER OF MYSTERY.

This unassuming structure is a question mark in stone, and to the New England state in which it is situated it the Tower of Mystery. No one knows who built it, or why it was put up, or when. It has stood for centuries without giving a clue to its history or purpose. One theory is that it was erected by the hardy and daring Norwegians who first discovered North America and founded the colony of Vinland, on the Atlantic coast in the year 1000. The leader of the expedition was Leif Ericsson, son of Eric the Red, discoverer of Greenland.

Except in prices, the seasons make but little difference to the marketmen of the city, as to what is wanted. The time is now near at hand, however, when summer fruits and vegetables will come from the nearby truck farms, and the increased supply will bring prices that will enable every one to purchase all they desire with but moderate outlay of money.

Strawberries, which have been in the Strawberries, which have been in the prohibited class except to the well-to-do, are steadily dropping in price, and today choice berries were on sale at 15 cents a quart. Cauliflower is also com-
